TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1817.

Edinburgh Review, for March, 1817.

In the number of works selected for the review, is an article entitled "Interesting Facts relating to the fall and death of Joachim Murat, King of Naples," &c. by Francis Macirone late aid-de-camp to King Joachim —and a highly interesting extract is given, with the following introduction by the reviewers:

The most interesting part of the extract before us consists of the adventures of Murat, after his ill-advised operations in the north of Italy had failed, and he had been obliged to save himself by a precipitate retreat upon Naples with the scanty remains of his army. There is nothing in ancient war, or the romance of dark ages, more entertaining than the story of his escape to France; his concealment at Marseilles; his subsequent flight to Corsica; and the wild attempt in which he lost his life. We confess that we feel much less interest in the fortunes of this man than M. Macirone who openly and honestly avows both his esteem for one with whom he had served, and his gratitude to him as a benefactor. Regarding him as a mere soldier of the French school;—a man brought up in the contempt alike of death and of civil duties;—whose only merit was great courage, accompanied with the virtues of frankness and generosity, which a thoughtless spirit stamps upon characters otherwise sufficiently dark: one in short of that class of military adventurers, who have retarded the improvement of mankind, and inflicted upon their own generation incalculable evils,—it is impossible for us to feel any portion of the warmth towards his person, or the regret for his fate, which in M. Macirone may be both natural and becoming. But every one must be interested with the story of his adventures; which are here related with a great air of truth and authority. The following extract will convey to the reader part of the entertainment we have derived from the perusal of this [illegible] the opportunity or escape from Marseilles in a vessel which he had freighted, and in which he had embarked his suite and his property, which, in this way, went out to sea without him. N. Y. Even. Post.

"Fortunately for King Joachim, it occurred to him, that it might be imprudent to return to the place of refuge which he had just quitted: had it been otherwise, he would inevitably have perished; for at that moment, the bloodhounds who pursued were in the act of visiting the very spot.

"He bent his steps whither chance directed him; carefully avoiding the vicinity of the forts, or of any large dwelling, lest the first house he approached might prove to be the habitation of the enemy. He wandered about the woods and vineyards for several days and nights, with scarcely any sustenance, and without shelter. At length compelled by weariness and hunger, he determined to enter a farm house, where he flattered himself he might not be known.

"He found only an old woman in the house, and informed her that he was an officer belonging to the garrison at Toulon; that he had been taking a long walk across the country; that he had lost his way, and had no dinner: he therefore begged her to prepare him something to eat. The good old woman in the most courteous manner, and with the greatest cheerfulness, assured him that he was a welcome guest, and that he might depend upon being instantly provided with the best fare her dear master's house could furnish. This mention of her "dear master," not a little alarmed the king, who immediately inquired his name, & if she expected him soon home? She satisfied his curiosity, adding that he was only gone out for a walk. The good woman, during this conversation, employed herself in preparing an omelet: but before she had finished either her cooking or her story her master returned.

"The king disguised the uneasiness he felt in this gentleman's company, who, however, very civilly bade him welcome, and seated himself at the table prepared for the king,—at the same time desiring the old woman to make ready another omelet for himself. The king, who, as may well be supposed, was extremely hungry, had begun his meal previous to the declaration of his host, that he would join him.

"No one who had ever beheld the stately figure and affable countenance of king Joachim, could forget him: and our host who though he had never seen him, had yet seen his portrait in the Marshal's saloon at the Thuilleries, as well as on coins of the Grand Dutchy of Berg, and the Kingdom of Naples,—and had also heard of his being then in the vicinity, as well as of the persecution to which he had been subjected, soon recognized in his guest the person of the king—when with profound respect and tears in his eyes, he begged the king to pardon the familiarity into which he had been betrayed; assuring him, that he would readily risk his life to preserve him, and that his house, his fortune, and his person were all at the king's disposal. At this moment, the old nurse, who was assiduously engaged at the fire, hearing the master's respectful and passionate address, from which she learnt the rank of the personage for whom she had been exercising her culinary skill was seized with an universal tremor; and in throwing herself at the king's feet, overturned the frying pan and its contents into the fire.

"The king remained concealed in the house of this worthy gentleman for several days, when some circumstance made it necessary that he should be removed. Another country house was provided, which was then unoccupied —and a naval officer, whose name I shall not mention, was intrusted with the secret. An old woman whose fidelity could be depended upon, was left in the house to wait upon the king, while the naval officer, and an associate named ——, were employed in occasionally attending upon his person, in bringing him necessaries and refreshments from the neighbouring town, and in guarding against any circumstance which might menace the king's safety.

In the mean time, king Joachim's enemies by no means relaxed in their exertions to take him. The report of his having gold and jewels to an immense amount about his person, not a little contributed to increase their activity. The good old woman, who was employed to wait on the king, was indefatigable in her attention.—She constantly kept watch during the night, while the king reposed, and would never retire to rest but in the middle of the day, when there was no danger of surprise; his faithful companion [illegible] in the town to avoid observation.

"It would appear, however, that something had led to a suspicion of the king's retreat; for, at midnight, on the 13th of August, a party of 60 men, headed by one Mocau, son of the general of that name, repaired to the villa in which the king was concealed. The house being placed upon an eminence, it would have been difficult to approach it in the day, without discovery; but, aided as this party was by the darkness of the night, they made quite sure of taking their victim by surprise, which must inevitably have happened if these imprudent assassins had not provided themselves with a lantern. The old dame, who was most fortunately watching at a window that looked towards the path which the ruffians were ascending, was alarmed at the appearance of the light; and immediately awaking the king, who was sleeping in his clothes with his arms beside him, apprized him of his danger. He instantly covered himself with his great coat, seized his poinard and two pair of holster pistols, slipped out at a back door, and concealed himself under the thick foliage of the vines, at about 80 yards distance from the house. The old woman fastened the door after him, whilst the gang surrounded the building. She had the presence of mind to make some delay in opening the door, under the pretence of requiring time to dress herself. In a few moments she disposed of the king's mattress, and set all to rights. This privileged banditti examined every corner of the house, and a party extended their search to the garden and vineyards; in doing which the king heard several of them pass within a few paces of him, expressing their wish that they might find him, to enjoy the pleasure of cutting him to pieces, and dividing his spoils;—but after an unsuccessful search, they left the house. The king afterwards informed me that it was his intention, in case he had been discovered, to kill as many of his assassins as he could; and then rather than suffer himself to be taken alive, to discharge the last pistol at his own head."

Cool reciprocations of esteem are the great comforts of life; hyperbolical praise only corrupts the tongue of the one, and the ear of the other.

ALEXANDRIA:
TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1817.

REPLY TO MR. QUÆRO.

Mr. Quæro,

Your last letter, sir, which I did not answer before, because I have only just seen it, commences by informing the public, that "your opponent wishes to have recourse to the infallibility of the church as a subterfuge to cover his dogmas and want of proof." The public will easily recollect, that you first introduced that subject to their notice, and more than once provoked its discussion. And why then should you complain, if I took up the gauntlet which you had thrown down, and showed myself in readiness to meet you. If the church which the redeemer established be infallible, and if no other church except the Catholic church can produce any claim to it, then the controversy is ended; all minor considerations must retire and vanish before the glare of conviction and evidence.

You are constantly forcing the Lateran council into your remarks on the temporal power of the Roman Pontiff. When you first introduced your objection from that council, I gave what I conceived to be a satisfactory solution. To this you have never replied, nor indeed could you, with any credit to your candor and good sense. But why do you constantly repeat your objection, as if it had never met with its condemnation? It was your duty, first to show the fallacy of my solution, before you ventured to repeat your objection. The same remark will apply to your assertion, that you have cited Pope's bulls against me. You never had, and you never will have it in your power to cite a Pontificial bull addressed to the whole church and received by it, in which the writer claims the temporal power, of which you speak. No other than a bull of this nature can have any decisive weight. In addition to this, you inform the public, that I first admitted and then renounced the Pope's infallibility. Although I might reject that personal prerogative without breaking through the pale of catholic unity, yet if you will peruse my letters a second time, you will discover, that I have never [illegible] in opposition to that prerogative. But I can easily account for your dwelling so long on this point. You were resolved to strain every nerve to prove that the Pope's temporal power was once at least a tenet of Catholicity. The creed of catholics is to be learnt from the decisions of general councils, and the doctrinal bulls of Pontiffs addressed to, and received by the whole church. That this tenet has flowed into the Catholic world through either of these two channels, you have in vain attempted to prove. What private Divines may have written on the subject, or however conformably to the supposed prerogative, Popes may have acted, these will never prove any thing more, than that private Divines have erred in theory, and Roman Pontiffs in practice. This assertion I am as ready to confess as you to boast of. When a certain Protestant nobleman of discernment and erudition had resided in Rome for some time, and become acquainted with its internal modern history—'The strongest argument,' thus he writes to a friend, "which Roman Catholics can produce in defence of the divinity of their religion, is (in my opinion) that, notwithstanding the occasional corruptions of the Roman court, of the priesthood, and sometimes of the sovereign pontiff himself, their church has always weathered the storm, and even in the worst times preserved each essential, which existed in the earliest ages."

It appears to me, that all, which you have written on this subject for some time past, was calculated to attain no other object than (in your own words) "to beguile the public." Instead of ending your remarks on this subject, with the pompous exclamation of victory, which you adopted in your last letter, you had better have prayed with the poet,

Pulchra laverna!
Da mihi fallere, da sanctum, justumque videri,
Noctem peccatis, et fraudibus objice nubem.

Once more you have introduced the Monita Secreta, and without attempting to falsify any one of my facts, you still believe the work authentic. Here, sir, is the short history of that work—one fact of which I defy you to contradict. In the early years of the 17th century, Jerom Zarowicz, a Polish Jesuit, was dismissed with ignominy from the order.—The walls of the city of Cracow, where the event took place, were soon covered with sheets of revengeful insults, and in the year 1616, this outcast of the order published his fabricated Monita Secreta, with a view to cover his disgrace, or to gratify his revenge. The libel, however, though condemned and prohibited at Rome by the Index, May 10, 1616, was industriously propagated, meeting every where its merited contempt. It was victoriously refuted by Gretser, who died in 1625. This refutation, which is not wanted, may be read in Gretser's works, edition of Ratis 1634. The enemies of the Jesuits every where patronised the book. Henry a'Sancto Ignatio, a Flemish Carmelite Friar, and an avowed partisan of the Jansenists Arnaud and Quesnel, trumpeted forth his Monita in his Tuba Magna, a violent invective against the Jesuits, which he printed at Strasbourg in 1713, and reprinted in 1717, just at the period when the Jansenists were cut off from Catholic communion by the bull Unigenitus. Whatever authorities and names you may oppose against the Jesuits, they will not, I think, equal those which I have it in my power to adduce. I will only just mention a few of the names, whose favorable sentiments, if required, I will lay before the public. Catherine II. of Russia, Clement XIII., Ganganelli himself, the president D'Equilles, Abbe Proyart, Voltaire, Montesquieu, Buffon, Haller, Muratori, Grotius, Leibnitz, Bacon, Frederick the Great, Dr Johnson, Dean Kirwin, Bausset, Juan and Ulloa, Richlieu, Abbe Raynal, and the united voice of the French Bishops, at the time when the Jesuits were expelled from France.

Towards the end of your letter, I read something which astonished me. The Jansenists, you say, were Catholics, Pascal lived and died a Catholic. The Catholic Church, sir, as I informed you above, cut off the Jansenists from her communion, by the bull Unigenitus. After that period they were no more considered Catholics than were Luther and his compeers after their condemnation by Leo X. If the Jansenists were Catholics, so certainly was Pascal, for he lived and died a Jansenist.

As to my questions, at which you have so long trembled, you have entirely evaded the case. I did not ask, and I have before told you, that I never should ask you, if the Presbyterians or Friends were heretics. I only asked you a speculative question—"Can a heretic exist, will he be lost, if he die a heretic." If you admitted the scriptures, your answer was easy. I proposed these queries to you, because you had spoken very harshly of a Catholic tenet; if you had answered them, I would have demonstrated, that you as well as myself, admitted that same intolerant tenet.

I conclude by assuring you, that I will be a more attentive correspondent for the future than I have, from unavoidable circumstances, been able to be, during the last two months. I remain with due regard, yours, &c. M. B.

Washington, Sept. 27.

We understand that a thorough investigation of the complaints and alleged abuses of the military school is soon to be had by order of the executive, and that orders have actually been issued for a general court martial and court of inquiry, to be held at West Point on the 20th October next.

Richmond, Sept. 26.

It is with much concern we learn from a passenger from the south, that the gallant THORNTON POSEY, late colonel of the United States' army, and recently a colonel in the Patriot army, under gen. M'Gregor, breathed his last at Wilmington, N. C. on Wednesday week. He reached that harbor in a vessel from Amelia Island, in company with the gallant friend who shared the toils of the expedition. He had symptoms of the bilious fever when he embarked, which proved too violent for his naturally strong constitution.

Much of the success which attended the expedition was owing to Posey's exertions; this generous and gallant soul would have been proud to have led the banners of liberty into an enslaved land; but, when he found that the means were insufficient for any great purpose—that a bold military expedition was about to degenerate into a privateering system, he and his Virginia friend threw up their commissions, and bade adieu to Amelia Island. He has now sunk into the grave, where neither the voice of liberty nor glory can reach him: but over its silent sod is poured the sigh of every man who sets a value upon gallantry, generosity, and noble daring.

It is said that general M'Gregor is about to re-visit South America. [Eng.

ROBBERY OF THE MAIL.

About four weeks past the post-rider on the Harrisonburg route, about 25 miles from this city, in the county of Hanover, was assailed by one white man and two Negroes, the bags taken from him and carried into the woods, where they were soon after found, ript open, a packet or two of newspapers torn, but no letters or packet of any consequence have been missed.

Last Saturday as the post boy, on the same route, was on his way to this city, he alighted for a moment, when two Negroes rushed out from the woods, seized him, threw him to the ground, and picked his pockets of about $7. "Shall we cut those things open again?" said one of these highway robbers, pointing to the bags. They, however, decided against it, leaving the mail bag untouched. [Ibid.

Our advices from this scene of contention, come down to Monday the 15th instant, per schr Lucretia, captain Runnoman, which put into Rebellion Roads on Friday evening last, on her passage from St. Mary's to New-York. On the day (Sunday) previous to her sailing, the Patriots were attacked by the Spaniards, amounting to about 200 men, and were beaten off after a sharp contest with the bayonet, with the loss of 7 killed and 9 wounded. The Patriot forces amounted to but seventy men, and sustained a loss of two killed, one severely, & four slightly wounded. When the Lucretia sailed, four or five prizes were going in, one of them a large ship, (probably the same that touched on our bar some days since,) the remainder brigs and schooners.

A Venezuelian privateer, commanded by the famous Com. Aury, from a cruize arrived at Amelia the day capt. R. sailed; and sent his boat on board the U. S. brig Saranac, lying off St. Mary's, requesting an exchange of salutes—which request, we understand, was passed over in silence.

On Wednesday night last, in lat. 32 20, capt. R. spoke the pilot-boat Favorite, Johnson, 10 days from New York bound to Amelia—and was informed that vessels were still fitting out there to carry men to Amelia. City Gazette.

New-York, Sept. 24.

Captain Williams, of the brig Maryland, from Galveston, who arrived at this port this morning, gives us the following information: On the 9th of September, off Havana, was boarded by the Patriot brig Mexican Congress, formerly the Calypso, of Baltimore; the boarding officer informed captain W. that they had had, a short time previous, an engagement with the Spanish government brig Cassadora, and had driven her into Havana. She was, however, reinforced by an armed brig and two schooners, and came out again in pursuit of the Mexican Congress, who escaped by superior sailing. The Patriot privateer Phœnix had captured a prize in sight of the Spanish squadron.

Captain Williams also informs that general Mina had been successful in several engagements with the Royalists—that troops were joining his standard daily; and that he was on his march for Pamtico, although the communication was cut off between that place and Mexico. [Commercial Advertiser.

Baltimore, Sept. 27.

It is already known that in June last Cæsar A. Rodney, John Graham, and Walter Jones, Esqrs. were appointed, by the executive of the United States, commissioners to proceed to South America for purposes which have been rather guessed at than fully explained. These commissioners were to have sailed in the Hornet, but that vessel having been found, on trial, not well suited to accommodate them, and other circumstances having occurred to cause delay, the gentlemen did not proceed on their mission at the time contemplated.

The nomination of Mr. Rush as minister from the United States to Great Britain, made it necessary to look out for a successor to him in the office of attorney general, and as it is said Mr. Jones is to be appointed to that office, it will account for his declining to proceed on the South American mission. The other commissioners, we learn, are to sail in about two weeks, either in the John Adams or the Macedonian; whether another commissioner has been, or will be appointed in the place of Mr. Jones, we have not ascertained.

We have also reason to believe that

Rose Hall for Rent.

TO be rented for the ensuing year, and will be offered to the highest bidder, on Friday the tenth day of October next, the farm and ferry commonly called LAIDLER'S FERRY. The farm contains upwards of five hundred acres of the most fertile land in Charles County. The ferry among the first established on the Potomack river in Maryland, is too well known to require any thing to be said of it. The person who may rent the farm and ferry may be accommodated with three or four excellant plantation hands and expert ferrymen.

GREAT BARGAINS.

THE subscriber intending shortly to remove to the southward, offers for sale to the highest bidder, on Monday the 13th day of October next, if fair, if not, the next fair day, 1 tract of LAND, containing 77½ acres, it being a part of an undivided tract of land called Buckley's Tract. There is on this tract a dwelling house, with several rooms, fine springs and rivulets of excellent water, an excellent apple orchard of early and late fruit, also a peach orchard, and about 25 acres of wood land annexed. This farm produces exceedingly well, and is divided into two fields.

Also, one other tract of LAND, containing 36 acres, called Pritchart's Tract. About one half of this tract is in fine thriving timber and wood land, with a proportion of good low ground suitable for meadow.

Also, I will lease for two lives, (ages 23 and 34 years) or for a term of years, one other tract of LAND, on which I reside, containing, by actual survey, 383½ acres. The improvements are a small dwelling house, granary and corn house, meat house, large stable not yet covered, cabins for Negroes, &c. This tract abounds with many pure and delightful SPRINGS and branches of water, which never fail, with about 50 acres of thriving timber and wood land; also, an apple orchard, with a number of bearing peach trees of the most delicious kind. About 400 grafted apple trees in nursery of the choicest selected latter fruit. This farm is under a tolerable good fence, and divided into two fields. These three tracts lie adjoining, and will be sold separate to suit purchasers, and it can be proved these tracts were originally of the first quality high lands, with white flint and grey stone (mostly piled) soil of a chocolate color, and produces good crops of corn, wheat, rye, oats, tobacco, potatoes and vegetables, &c. &c. abounding in grass, which affords a fine natural pasture for stock of every kind. A small lot of this land was sown in clover, which produced a fine crop without the aid of manure or plaster. There is about 20 acres of high and low grounds, well taken in Timothy, and at least 40 more of low grounds, which might easily be converted into meadow with but little expense.—About 20 acres of fallow will be sown in rye, and any person who may purchase shall have liberty to seed about 70 acres of corn land immediately, or fallow and seed any quantity they please. On the east and west side of these lands there is a very extensive range for stock. On this tract there is an excellect seat for MILLS or other MACHINERY on a never failing stream—the fall so great having been levelled, the water may be worked over twice. A part of the materials for building a mill has already been procured. This year plaster has been tried for the first time on this land upon corn with admirable effect. One of my neighbors plastered a clover lot adjoining this land last spring, which produced a very abundant and excellent crop. It is now the opinion of those who have tried the plaster on lands in this settlement, that it acts as powerfully here as on the Loudoun lands. Those who may disbelieve it I invite to come and see for themselves. These lands lie about 2 1-2 miles south east of Centreville, 2 miles only from the turnpike road—20 miles from Alexandria, George own and the city of Washington, and is so extremely healthy, having no marshy lands near it—the situation high and agreeably diversified—the air so pure and salubrious, that during the five years past, the time I have had this farm in possession not one death by sickness has occurred in my family of more than thirty persons, of white and black. Nothing but the want of funds to improve these lands possessing so many natural advantages, induces me to dispose of them. Possession of the two last described tracts will be given the purchaser on or before the first day of November next; a good and indisputable title will be made to the purchaser, and the lands shewn to any person who may wish to view them before the sale.

TERMS of sale for the lands, one half cash in hand, the other half in 12 months, the purchaser giving bond with two approved securities.

Will be sold at the same time and place for CASH in hand, upwards of 100 barrels of good corn standing in the field—likewise the fodder—also, several valuable NEGROES, HORSES and gig, MULES, CATTLE, among which, are some good milch cows and one yoke of oxen, SHEEP, HOGS, FARMING UTENSILS of various descriptions, HOUSEHOLD and KITCHEN furniture. Sale to commence at 12 o'clock—For further particulars apply to the subscriber living on the premises. All persons to whom I am indebted will please present their claims, on, or soon after the day of sale, if convenient, otherwise I shall call on them and adjust all outstanding claims.

Land for Sale.

IF early application is made, I will dispose of 400 acres of the CEDAR GROVE tract of land. There is surplus timber and fire wood enough on the part I purpose selling to pay, with judicious management, more than half the purchase money, at the price I ask. The situation is healthy, and the land fertile. Contiguity to market is also among its advantages; it being within less than a mile of Mr. Jonathan Janney's mill, where the Alexandria price may be had for grain. Persons wishing to purchase will apply to the subscriber, residing at Cedar Grove, ten miles below Alexandria, and one below Janney's mill.

ully for Sale

THIS estate, situated in the county of Fairfax, twenty two miles from Alexandria, and the same distance from Georgetown, contains about seven hundred and fifty acres. Little River Turnpike passes through it half a mile from the dwelling house. The situation is handsome, and remarkably healthy; the water is good and abundant. The soil which was originally excellent, has for some years past had the advantage of improving husbandry, Plaister of Paris acting with powerful and immediate effect on all grasses and grains. The fields present a good surface for cultivation, and those, now untilled, are covered with red clover. The orchards are very large and thrifty; the collection of table fruit is choice and various. The mansion is spacious and well constructed: the outhouses are conveniently situated, and the whole have been lately thoroughly repaired and painted. The farm houses which are all nearly new, are expensive and excellent in their kind.

For a gentleman of leisure this would be a delightful residence; and a profitable estate for an active farmer. The title is indisputable, and perfectly unincumbered.

A number of well taught orderly young men, with good stocks and farming utensils of all kinds, and the crops of the present year, if desired, will be at the command of the purchaser.

Application may be made to the subscriber, living on the premises, next the post-office at Pleasant Valley, in Fairfax.

A valuable Farm for Sale.

THE SUBSCRIBER will sell, on reasonable terms, a valuable and productive farm of 600 acres, or thereabouts—being part of the lands of the late Richard Brent, lying on Kettle Run in the county of Prince William, in the state of Virginia—20 miles from the Occoquan Mills—33 miles from Alexandria, and about the same distance from Georgetown and the City of Washington. This farm lies in the centre of an excellant neighborhood—is handsomely situated—abundantly watered, and has upon it an ample proportion of wood. The soil is naturally strong, and a considerable portion of it has for some years past, been cultivated according to the most approved rules of modern husbandry—Possession will be given on the first day of January next. The terms upon which this property will be sold, will be made known upon application to George L. Brent, of Stafford County, Va. or to the subscriber living in Alexandria.

Twenty Dollars Reward.

LEFT my employ on Thursday, the 11th instant, a servant boy, named SPENCER; he is about 15 or 16 years old, tolerably well grown, is bow legged, of light yellow complexion, stammers when spoken to. He is probably lurking about town, and will no doubt try to pass for a free boy. I will give the above reward if taken more than ten miles from town, ten dollars if taken out of the district, and five if taken within the district. I forewarn all persons from harboring or carrying off said boy, as I am determined to have such offenders punished to the extent of the law. T. MOUNT.

100 Dollars Reward.

ABSCONDED from the subscriber, two female negro SLAVES. Phoebe, who I understand has changed her name to Nancy. 30 years of age, about five feet seven or eight inches high, black complexion, straight and well proportioned, brought up as a house servant and semptress—at which last profession she is excelled by none of her color.

Peggy, a bright mulatto, 19 or 20 years of age, about 5 feet 5 or six inches high, rather thick, and has a scar on the top of one of her feet; also brought up as a house servant.

The above reward will be paid for the delivery of the above slaves to me, at my residence in Fairfax county, at the 22d mile stone, Little River Turnpike Road; or sixty dollars for the former and forty or the latter.

November 27

James Kennedy & Son,

BOOKSELLERS,

KING-STREET, ALEXANDRIA,

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

Lee's Medicine Store,

No. 46, Maiden lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm-destroying Lozenges,

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and mildest purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Teres or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitine or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fœtid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance, and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands of the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended

HAHN's ANTI BILIOUS PILLS.

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West Indies and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual costiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir,

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthmas, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.—To parents who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Hamilton's Grand Restorative,

Is recommended as an invaluable medicine for the speedy relief and permanent cure of Nervous Disorders, Consumptions, Lowness of spirits, Loss of appetite, Impurity of blood, "Hysteric" affection, Inward weaknesses and debility; Violent cramps in the stomach and back, Indigestion, Melancholy, Gout in the stomach, Pains in the limbs, Relaxations, etc.

Hamilton's Essence and Extract of Mustard.

A safe and effectual remedy for acute and chronic rheumatism, gout, rheumatic gout, palsy, lumbago, numbness, white swellings, chilblains, sprains, bruises, pain in the face and neck, etc. etc.

Lee's Ointment for the Itch.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaister.

An infallible remedy for corns, speedily removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion,

So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflamatory redness, scurfs, tetters, ring worms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water,

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the eyes, whether the effect of natural weakness or of accident.

Toothe Ache Drops.

The only remedy yet discovered which gives immediate and lasting relief in the most severe instances.

Lee's Infallible Ague and Fever Drops

For the cure of agues, remittent and intermittent fevers.

☞ At the place of sale pamphlets may be had gratis, describing cures performed by the above medicines; the number, importance and respectability of which, fully justify every article of the advertisement.
